

FREE ART SCHOOL: A CASUAL CONVERSATION W/ CLEAR AS DAY
4-5 PM: FRI: SEP 3RD: PS1: DWTN IC

This season's second sweet syndication of the synthesis that strings free, art, & school together will take place late in the afternoon of Friday, September 3rd at Public Space One in downtown Iowa City.

Peter Happel Christian & Phillip Lewis will speak as Clear as Day, talking about the process of dehumidifying our dampened basement (drawing that drizzle from our drawers) while demonstrating the dynamics of their collaborative duo from virtual datum to demonstrable displays.

Alliteration aside, attendees to this talk will receive an outstanding opportunity to meet these two interesting individuals who work in the field of art & academia. As a bonus these same attendees will be right on time for the opening of the Clear as Day: Water Vision exhibition (from 5-7 PM, w/ hors d'oeuvres from The Red Avocado).
